Key Issues Impacting Partners

Digital transformation has created misalignment of the partner's sales process, with the new digitallyconnected buyer's journey

Today's empowered B2B Buyers demand a new level of specialization and sophistication from vendor's partners that support them.

This new level of specialization and sophistication has made it much more difficult for channel leaders to find and recruit the right partners.

Channel leaders need a partner centric approach to recruitment modeled on best practices built on the Partner Journey.

But which incentives are more effective?

The incentives framework in action

A systematic approach to incentive plan design

Start by Identifying Overarching Goals

What Growth Goals are you trying to achieve?

Partner

Which Partner Types can contribute to those goals?

Persona

What is the role of the various Partner Personas?

Behavior

What Behaviors would you like see those personas perform?

Compare Your Partner's Journey to Your Buyer's Journey

Your Buyer's Journey

Identify Desired Behaviors at the Individual, Team, and Company Levels
